Expenses and Reimbursements Policy

Document ID: HR-POL-006

Company: Promote Health Analytics Pty Ltd

Version: 1.2

Effective date: 2026-01-01

Owner: Finance

Status: active

Applies to: full_time, part_time, contractor, probation ## 1. Purpose

This policy defines the business expenses that Promote Health Analytics Pty Ltd may reimburse and the evidence, approval, timing, and review requirements that apply.

2. Scope

This policy applies to employees and to contractors where a written contract permits reimbursement. It covers ordinary business expenses, approved travel, home-office items, and company-related purchases.

3. Definitions

3.1 Business expense

A reasonable and necessary cost incurred for an authorised company purpose.

3.2 Pre-approval

Written approval obtained before committing to the expense.

3.3 Receipt

Itemised evidence showing supplier, date, items, currency, tax, and total amount.

4. Policy Requirements

4.1 General eligibility

The expense must have a clear business purpose, be reasonable, and comply with the approved budget. Personal expenses, fines, penalties, entertainment without a business purpose, and costs caused by avoidable non-compliance are not reimbursable.

4.2 Evidence

A claim must include an itemised receipt or equivalent evidence. A card statement alone is insufficient unless Finance approves a documented missing-receipt declaration.

4.3 Pre-approval threshold

Individual expenses above AUD 500 require pre-approval from the manager and Finance. Splitting one purchase into smaller transactions to avoid the threshold is prohibited.

4.4 Home-office items

A home-office item is reimbursable only where it supports an approved work arrangement and is approved before purchase. Company-standard equipment should be requested under HR-POL-009 rather than purchased personally.

5. Procedures or Application

5.1 Claim information

The claimant must provide the amount, currency, transaction date, category, business purpose, project or cost centre, approval evidence, and receipt.

5.2 Submission timeframe

Expense claims must be submitted within 30 calendar days of the transaction. A late claim requires an explanation and may be declined where review or accounting is no longer reliable.

5.3 Review and payment

The manager confirms business purpose and budget responsibility. Finance confirms evidence, policy compliance, coding, and payment processing.

5.4 Foreign currency

The claim must record the original currency and amount. Finance may use the card-provider rate or another documented rate applicable to the transaction date.

5.5 Reasonableness and value

Claimants should select options that provide reasonable value for the business purpose. Premium, luxury, or convenience costs require a clear business justification and may be reduced to a reasonable amount. A manager's approval confirms business need and budget responsibility but does not prevent Finance from identifying missing evidence, duplication, personal components, or non-compliance.

5.6 Duplicate and mixed-purpose claims

A claimant must not seek reimbursement for a cost already paid by the company, another person, a customer, an insurer, or another program. Mixed personal and business transactions should be separated where possible. Where separation is not possible, the claimant must identify the business portion and provide a reasonable allocation method. Finance may request additional evidence.

5.7 Records and audit

Expense records must be complete enough for another reviewer to understand the supplier, date, purpose, approval, amount, currency, and accounting treatment. Altered or incomplete records may be escalated. The company may review claims for duplicate payments, unusual patterns, threshold splitting, missing evidence, or inconsistency with travel and equipment records.

6. Exceptions and Escalation

- An emergency expense may be considered without pre-approval where delay would create a material safety, security, or operational risk.
- The claimant must document the emergency and seek retrospective review promptly.
- An exception does not guarantee reimbursement. ## 7. Responsibilities

7.1 Claimants

Spend responsibly, obtain approval, retain evidence, and submit accurate claims.

7.2 Managers

Confirm necessity, reasonableness, and budget.

7.3 Finance

Review compliance, maintain payment records, and escalate irregular claims.

8. Decision Rules

- If an individual expense exceeds AUD 500 and required pre-approval is absent, escalate to Finance before reimbursement.
- If the business purpose or evidence is missing, do not approve the claim until sufficient information is provided.
- If a standard company item is available through HR-POL-009, use the equipment process rather than personal purchase. ## 9. Examples

9.1 Approved monitor

A manager pre-approves a necessary monitor costing AUD 420. The employee submits the itemised receipt within 30 days.

9.2 Unapproved chair

An employee buys a chair costing AUD 650 without manager and Finance approval. The claim requires exception review and may be declined.

10. Frequently Asked Questions

10.1 Is a card statement enough?

Not normally. An itemised receipt or approved missing-receipt declaration is required.

10.2 Can I submit a claim after 30 days?

A late claim may be reviewed with an explanation, but reimbursement is not guaranteed.

10.3 Can I divide a purchase into two claims?

No. Splitting a purchase to avoid the approval threshold is prohibited.
