Travel and Work-Location Risk Policy

Document ID: HR-POL-012

Company: Promote Health Analytics Pty Ltd

Version: 1.2

Effective date: 2026-01-01

Owner: Operations

Status: active

Applies to: full_time, part_time, contractor, probation ## 1. Purpose

This policy defines how Promote Health Analytics Pty Ltd assesses and manages safety, security, operational, and location risk for business travel and temporary work locations.

2. Scope

This policy applies to company-approved business travel and to location review supporting international remote-work requests.

3. Definitions

3.1 Restricted destination

A destination that requires elevated review or is unavailable for company work because of identified risk factors.

3.2 Location-risk review

A documented assessment of safety, security, connectivity, information, insurance, and operational factors.

3.3 Business travel

Travel undertaken primarily for an approved company purpose.

4. Policy Requirements

4.1 Destination classification

Operations and Information Security may classify a destination as standard, elevated, restricted, or prohibited for a particular type of work. Classification may differ by role, system access, data sensitivity, and local conditions.

4.2 Restricted destinations

Travel to a restricted destination requires Security and People and Culture review before approval. Company-system access may remain prohibited even where personal travel to the destination is lawful. A prohibited destination must not be approved for company work.

4.3 Traveller information

The traveller must provide accurate dates, destination, contact details, accommodation, transport, work purpose, and relevant accessibility or safety needs. Only information necessary for risk management should be collected.

4.4 Personal travel combined with work

Personal travel costs and activities remain the traveller's responsibility unless specifically approved as business travel. The work portion remains subject to remote-work, security, and location controls.

5. Procedures or Application

5.1 Request and assessment

The traveller or employee submits the destination and dates before committing to non-refundable arrangements. Operations, Information Security, People and Culture, or the manager may request further information relevant to the assessment.

5.2 Change in conditions

The company may change, suspend, or withdraw approval where safety, security, connectivity, insurance, or regulatory conditions materially change. The employee must report a material change in destination or itinerary.

5.3 Incident support

A traveller should follow local emergency guidance and contact the identified company support channel where safe to do so. A security incident involving systems or information must also be handled under HR-POL-005.

5.4 Traveller preparation

Before departure, the traveller should confirm approved bookings, contact details, required documents, relevant health and safety preparation, system-access controls, and the company support channel. The traveller should carry only the equipment and information necessary for the approved activity and should avoid unnecessary exposure of confidential material.

5.5 Personal safety and local conditions

The traveller should follow credible local safety guidance and exercise reasonable care in transport, accommodation, and work locations. The company may require an alternative location or itinerary where conditions create an unacceptable risk. The traveller should not undertake work from a public or insecure environment merely because the destination has otherwise been approved.

5.6 Post-travel reporting

The traveller should report material incidents, security concerns, lost equipment, or significant deviations from the approved plan. Reports should be factual and limited to information required for follow-up. Expense claims, equipment incidents, and security incidents remain subject to their authoritative policies.

6. Exceptions and Escalation

- Urgent travel may receive expedited review, but urgency does not remove destination, security, or approval controls.
- A personal preference does not create an exception to a prohibited destination decision. ## 7. Responsibilities

7.1 Travellers

Provide accurate information, follow approved conditions, and report changes.

7.2 Managers

Confirm business need, coverage, and budget.

7.3 Operations

Coordinate travel and location-risk review.

7.4 Information Security

Assess system, network, information, and destination security risk.

7.5 People and Culture

Assess employment-location and employee-support considerations.

8. Decision Rules

- If destination_status is prohibited, company work must not be approved.
- If destination_status is restricted, Security and People and Culture review is required.
- If the itinerary or destination changes materially, the employee must obtain updated review. ## 9. Examples

9.1 Restricted destination

An employee proposes work from a restricted destination. The request requires Security and People and Culture review and may still be declined.

9.2 Approved business trip

A traveller provides complete details, receives approval, and follows security and expense controls.

10. Frequently Asked Questions

10.1 Does lawful personal travel mean I can work there?

No. Company work depends on the company's location, security, and employment review.

10.2 Can approval be withdrawn?

Yes, where relevant conditions materially change.

10.3 Which policy controls the duration of overseas remote work?

HR-POL-004 Remote and Flexible Work Policy.
